

to identify individuals and their positions or roles during Mr. Agnew's service as Governor. He also noted those who had assisted him in this effort. Mr. Paul E. Krieger began preliminary work on the index, and Miss Maureen Eby carefully checked names of many persons and organizations. To Miss Grace Janelle Sherfy, who developed the index with resourceful diligence, belongs principal credit for its final arrangement and content.

Special appreciation is also due to the many Maryland officials who were consulted about details which added to the accuracy of the information in the index. Their assistance was especially helpful.

To officials of the University of Maryland, particular thanks is due for their willingness again to support and assist the State in this second effort to publish the papers of the Governors of Maryland and, specifically for their invaluable support to Dr. Burdette in this endeavor.

Others whose assistance in this effort deserves attention are Mrs. Cecile W. Preble and Mrs. Deanna Bryan Harvey, both of whom spent many hours in the organization and proof reading of materials as these moved through the various stages of the editing and printing process; Mr. Herbert L. Thompson and Mr. John E. Surrick, press officers to Governor Agnew, who assisted Dr. Burdette in the location and identification of documents, tapes and related materials; and Mr. Robin Zee, Director, Office of Central Services, Department of General Services, whose assistance added measurably to the physical quality and appearance of these volumes.

The task of completing this preface was one which I assumed, having been a member of Governor Agnew's staff and having been associated for many years with Dr. Burdette as student, colleague and friend.

Special Note:

This work having been interrupted as it was in the closing lines of its completion, I wish to express my warm appreciation to Dr. Jean E. Spencer, Associate Executive Director of the Board of Trustees of the State Collèges of Maryland, for her cooperation and loyal support which were invaluable throughout the preparation of these volumes. For her willingness to write this preface, I am especially grateful.
